The Project for New Mexico Graduates of Color (PNMGC) in partnership with the Association for the Advancement of Minorities in Medicine (AAMM), Black Graduate & Professional Student Association (BGPSA), Black Law Student Association (BALSAA), Mexican American Law Student Association (MALSA), Native American Law Student Association (NALSAA), Raza Graduate Student Association (RGSA) and Society of Native American Graduate Students (SNAGS) are proud to announce the 4th annual UNM Faculty of Color Awards to recognize the outstanding work of UNM faculty of color in mentoring, research, community and teaching. UNM faculty of color contribute to the success of students of color as well as serving the entire UNM campus and larger New Mexico community. These awards are a small way that graduate and professional students of color can thank faculty of color for their contributions.

Please attach a letter of support that details why your nominee deserves to be recognized with a Faculty of Color Award in one of the categories described above. If you want your nominee to be considered for more than one category, then you must submit a letter of support for each of the categories you would like your nominee to be considered. The decisions of the award committee will be based on the content of the letters received. Please be sure to include appropriate and significant details for the category you choose. Teaching can include the course content, style of teaching, and methodology and praxis. Community can include service on committees, student recruitment, and off campus organization involvement. Research can include significance of research to communities of color. Mentoring can include student organization & student advising, student recruitment, and funding students. The staff award should be judged on service given to students and/or the UNM community at large above and beyond the paid duties. The TA award will be based on the teaching excellence of the student TA. The All Around award must address all 4 categories.

All nominations must be received by 5:00 pm on Friday, April 2 in the PNMGC office or the Office of Graduate Studies and nominations must include both the nomination form and letter of support to be considered. All submitted nominations will be reviewed by a committee of UNM students and staff. All nominated faculty of color will be honored at the UNM Faculty of Color Awards Reception on Wednesday, May 13. Awardees will be announced and recognized at the reception.
